What's Your Story?

Everyone's life is a story. As a Christian woman I believe God authored my life but I believe He invites me to be the co-author of my story. No matter your own personal beliefs, your life is a story and it is important. When we actively partake in writing our story we don't just settle for being a reader but rather we embrace our future because we are active participants. Do you ever feel stuck? Just going through the motions? I certainly have, and it caused me to study my past, embrace my future, and learn to be a storyteller. Shared stories have the potential to move hearts – yours and mine.

This Month's Speaker:
Amy Rogers

Amy grew up moving around the midwest before landing in Seattle when her father was transferred in the late 70s. Amy graduated from the UofW where she met her husband, Jeff Rogers. Together, they have 3 daughters: Lauren is 24 years old and works for Tableau Software in Seattle. Addyson is 19 and is a freshman at Pepperdine University. Camryn is a freshman at Bellevue Christian High School. Jeff and Amy own OneAccord Partners, a consulting firm in Kirkland, and are involved in multiple ministries such as KIROS, C3, and Rescue Freedom, among others. Amy founded The Doingood Foundation in 2006 and has done extensive work in Uganda. Amy enjoys cooking, entertaining, coffee dates with Jeff first and friends second, reading good books, exploring the world with Jeff and their girls, serving others, and cheering on the Huskies, Seahawks, and Camryn's Eastside Football Club Soccer team!
